FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS, AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Petitioner Louis A. Brown, a federal prisoner, convicted in the Eastern District of Louisiana but incarcerated at a facility in this district, has filed a pro se application for writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241, challenging the denial of jail time credit. See Dkt. No. 3. His case has been referred to the undersigned United States magistrate judge pretrial management under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and a standing order of reference from United States District Judge Ada Brown.

Petitioner moves for leave to proceed in forma pauperis (“IFP”). See Dkt. No. 4. And the undersigned enters these findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendation that the Court should deny that motion; order that Petitioner pay the filing fee; and, if he fails to do so within a reasonable time, dismiss this action without prejudice for failure to prosecute and obey an order of the Court.

The IFP motion reflects that, as of April 29, 2020, Petitioner’s six-month average trust account balance was $143.89 and that, over the previous six months, more than $1,100 has been deposited into his trust account. See id. at 4 (further reflecting that, on that date, his current account balance was $190.04).

28 U.S.C. § 1915(a) sets forth the standards governing IFP motions. A district court may authorize the commencement of a civil action without the prepayment of fees or costs “by a person who submits an affidavit ... that [he or she] is unable to pay such fees or give security therefor.” Id. The Court must examine the financial condition of the applicant in order to determine whether the payment of fees would “cause [an] undue financial hardship.” Prows v. Kastner, 842 F.2d 138, 140 (5th Cir. 1988). And the amount of money available to inmates in their prison trust account or from other sources should be considered. See id.; Simon v. Quarterman, No. 3:07-cv-1793-D, 2007 WL 4167943, at *1 (N.D. Tex. Nov. 20, 2007).

As the filing fee for a habeas case is just $5.00, even though Petitioner is incarcerated, the financial information reflected in his IFP motion show that he can afford to pay that filing fee without incurring undue financial hardship. See N.D. TEX. MISC. ORDER NO. 6, Rule 2a(4)(a)(ii) (May 5, 2005) (this Court routinely grants leave to proceed IFP if “the average six month balance of [an] inmate[’s] trust account and other financial resources are less than Fifty Dollars”).

Recommendation

The Court should deny Petitioner Louis A. Brown leave to proceed in forma pauperis, see Dkt. No. 4, and order that he pay the $5.00 filing fee within 21 days of any order accepting or adopting this recommendation (or within some other reasonable time to be set by the Court), and, if he fails to do so, the Court should dismiss this action without prejudice under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) without further notice.

And any party who objects to any part of these findings, conclusions, and recommendation must file specific written objections within 14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); FED. R. CIV. P. 72(b). In order to be specific, an objection must identify the specific finding or recommendation to which objection is made, state the basis for the objection, and specify the place in the magistrate judge's findings, conclusions, and recommendation where the disputed determination is found. An objection that merely incorporates by reference or refers to the briefing before the magistrate judge is not specific. Failure to file specific written objections will bar the aggrieved party from appealing the factual findings and legal conclusions of the magistrate judge that are accepted or adopted by the district court, except upon grounds of plain error. See Douglass v. United Servs. Auto. Ass'n, 79 F.3d 1415, 1417 (5th Cir. 1996).
